

Ford, Worthington Chauncey, ed. A Cycle of Adams Letters, 1861-1865. 2 vols. Boston: Houghton Mifflin Company, 1920.

Volume I

Fort Independence, daily routine, 3-4

Business dead in Boston, 5

Fond of military life, 5-6

Drilling the Quincy exempts, 6

English vs. American society, aristocracy, 7

House of Commons, 7-8

Morrill Tariff, England and France, 9

Wants to command a company, 10

Glory, duty of the family. 10-11

Slavery, English ministry, 11-12

Great Bethel, 12-13

Charles Sumner, Seward, 13-16

English do not expect war, fear reunion and hostility to England, 14

Blunder of English ministry, Seward, 16-17

Short war, 17-18

Blockade, cotton, 20

London society, 20-22

Bull Run, Scott, Sumner, Greeley, 22-24, 26-27

Henry Adams wants a commission, 24, 28-32

Stages of the disease, union, 27-28

Foreign relations, England and France, 33-34

Cotton supply, reading sources, slavery, Cuba, blockade, 34-37

Confidence in McClellan, 38

William Howard Russell, McClellan, Seward, 38-39

Hostile British press, Palmerston, 39

English, Treaty of Paris, English and French interests, 40-43

Cotton monopoly curse to both Great British and the United States, 43-45

Seward, 45

Optimistic about military situation, 46-47

Better situation in England, Times of London see America divided as no longer a threat, 45-48

John Russell, 48

Rosecrans, 49

Henry finds it hard to find companions because few stay in London very long, 51

London, Confederate agents, English interests, shipping, India, 52-53

Charles Sumner, speech, Dana, 53-55

Expects McClellan to spring on Manassas, 55

Governor Andrew wants Charles Francis Adams, Jr. to become an American correspondent with a London newspaper, 55-56, 67

Despite newspapers, Henry Adams retain confidence in leaders, 56-57

Faults political interference with military operations, 57

Seward, 57-59

Navy failing to capture good coming out of England, 60-61

Henry Adams, great hope in McClellan. 62-63
 President not equal to the crisis, Confederates have made great progress, Cameron is corrupt, Welles is incompetent, 63
 Dissatisfied with cabinet except Seward, Chase, and Blair, 64
 Ball's Bluff, death of Baker, 65
 Charles Francis Adams on statesmen, 67-69
 Seward and possible war, 70
 Trent affair, Mason, Slidell, Wilkes, John Russell, foolish Americans, 71, 75, 78-86, 88, 90-93, 99-100, 104, 106-9, 114-15
 Charles Francis Adams, Jr., enlistment, 72-73
 Much criticism of Seward, alcohol, 73-74
 Fasting, humiliation, and prayer, 74
 Ball's Bluff, McClellan, Winfield Scott, 77
 Blockade, 81
 Death of the Prince Consort, 87-88
 Thurlow Weed, 94
 Drunken officer, 97
 Little social life, 104
 Great need for a military victory, followed up by another, McClellan, 105
 Weed and English press, 108
 Meeting of Parliament and possibility of intervention, 109
 Picket detail, 111
 Beaufort, 111ff
 Parliament of neutrality, 113
 Slaves and cotton speculation, 114
 Charles Francis Adams, Jr., bored with military duty in Beaufort, 115-16
 Finds his camp life and comrades quite congenial, 116-17
 Cotton in South Carolina, Edward Pierce, slaves, 117-18
 Thurlow Weed and Charles Sumner, 118-19
 Henry Adams, need have Davis and his army shot up in Virginia, and then no summer campaign, 119
 Great change in tone in British opinion, 120
 Mason, 121
 Blockade, 121-22
 Western campaign success has brought change of tone in London, blockade running, 122-23
 Merrimac and Monitor much talked of in London, 123
 Bored and disgusted with military life, 124
 Port Royal, 124ff
 Using slaves to build a road, 125
 Describes Port Royal, plantation, pickets and contrabands, freedom and revolution in cotton production, 126
 War is killing slavery, cotton, racial future, 129-33
 Henry Adams, dissatisfied with London society, 133-34
 Future of science, 135
 Size of Federal armies calm matters in London, 136
 English opinion has turned against the Confederates, 137

Aid for poor of London, 137-38
 Henry Adams confident despite recent Confederate successes, English opinion pro-southern, 138-41
 Need to settle emancipation question, abolitionists, 139-40
 English sympathizes with Confederacy, 142
 Capture of New Orleans, 143-147
 Charleston, 145
 Cotton supply in England, 150
 McClellan Peninsula campaign, 151
 British congratulating us on success of our arms, 151
 Effects of cotton, 152
 Revenge on English classes that have stood against us, 152
 Simon Cameron, Thurlow Weed, 153
 Henry Adams enjoys Parliamentary debate, Palmerston, Disraeli, Gladstone, 153-54
 London Index, 154-55
 John's Island, South Carolina, under fire, General Williams brigade, Generals Benham and Stevens, nothing disgraceful in our repulse, 155-58
 McClellan and Richmond, Corinth, Yancey, war conducted by small bodies of men, guerrillas, 158-59
 Cotton problem in England, 159
 Charleston, Benham as scapegoat, 159-61
 Slavery, Edward L. Pierce, 160
 McClellan and Fabian policy, 161
 Future of slavery, 161-62
 July 4, 162
 Henry Adams, discouraging news from home, 162-63
 McClellan, 163
 English suffering, cotton, 163-64
 Fighting in Virginia, McClellan, 164-65
 Future of country, subjugation, hostile southerners, 165
 News from Richmond has encouraged hostile elements in England, McClellan, 166-69
 David Hunter, black in army, Stanton, radical Republicans and black mania, 169-72
 Effects of McClellan failed Peninsula campaign, 172-73
 Harm done by northern press, 173
 David Hunter and black soldiers, 174
 Skeptical about Emancipation Proclamation and arming slaves, 174-75
 Washington, McClellan, McDowell, Holt, Stanton, Halleck, panic in Washington, 177-80
 Hard not to despair of the republic, 181
 John Pope, 181
 Need to subjugate the southern people, extermination, 182-83
 Does not value human life highly but still depressed by losses and disasters, 183
 England at peace, cotton, happiness and misery in England, 184-85
 Antietam, 185-90
 Worries about invasion of Maryland and safety of Washington, 190
 Worst news fortunately while Parliament not in session and British on vacation, 190-91
 Confederate endurance, death of slavery, 191-92

McClellan, credit, Antietam, Gladstone, Jefferson Davis, 192
 Loss of faith in newspaper accounts, Antietam, 193-94
 Removal of McClellan, Halleck, 194
 Henry Adams and self-doubt, 195-96
 Removal of McClellan, Burnside, 196-97
 Confederates strong, lack of northern leadership, 197
 Thanksgiving, food, 197
 Washington, camp in mud, 198-99
 Seward, 199
 Soldier pay, 199
 Marching, rain, roads, 200
 Thanksgiving, 202-3
 Winter campaign in Virginia, 203
 Food, tobacco, 204
 Miserable in snow, 204-5
 Officers, new colonel, 206-7, 209
 Fredericksburg, 207, 211
 Christmas, 215
 Cavalry expedition, 216-18
 Seward dispatches, calm in London, middle and lower classes sympathetic to North, 220-21, 234
 Fredericksburg, 221-22
 Averell, cavalry expedition, night march, raid, 225-33
 Robert C. Buchanan, 234-35
 Aristocratic friends in England may have abandoned Charles Francis Adams, 236
 Effect of army life on Charles Francis Adams, Jr., better man, more human, camp as home, 237-39
 Inaccurate newspaper reporting on the war, 240-41
 Emancipation Proclamation and diplomacy, Lincoln, 243
 Working with the English government, lower classes favor the North., John Russell, Palmerston, 244
 Rain, tent, horses, 246-47
 Bounty soldiers, deserters, other soldiers snatched up by guerrillas, starved and died, 247-48
 Officer problems, 248-49
 Army of the Potomac demoralized, McClellan, Fitz John Porter, Sumner, Franklin, 250
 Antislavery sentiment in England, sentiment against intervention, 251-52
 John Stuart Mill, 253
 Prince de Joinville on McClellan campaign, 253-54
 English meetings and antislavery sentiment, 254
 Picket line, Hartwood Church, skirmishing, 255-63
 Court martial, 263-64
 Winter, faith in Hooker, campaign plans, 265-66
 Future plans, 266-67
 Bulldog, 268
 Blockade runners, Mexico, Peterhoff and the Alabama, 273-76
 English opinion and collisions at sea, 276-77
 Robert J. Walker, 277

Aspinwall, John Murray Forbes, John A. Kasson, 277-78
Offer to Henry to go to Mexico, 279
John Russell, parliamentary debate, 280-81
Chancellorsville, cavalry guarding the army, marching, 282-95
Four tough weeks of campaigning, 295
Chancellorsville losses and Hooker, 295-96
Parliament and ministers, 296-97
Seward, 298

Volume II

Waste of resources in cavalry raid, suffering of horses, Stoneman's raid, Hooker, 3-8
Lawley's letters to Times of London, 9
Party, Edward Lytton, Robert Browning, 9-12
John Russell, diplomacy, 13-14
Pessimistic, Army of the Potomac, Hooker, Charles Francis Adams, Jr is hopeful but not confident, 14-15
Cleaning and inspection, 15
Hard to get permission to visit anyone, 16
Grant and Vicksburg, 16-17
William M. Evarts, dinner at Cambridge, 18-19
Bored with London routine, 20
French election, 20-21
Decaying animals all around Bealton, 21
Orders and water, 22
Picket duty, 23
William Howard Russell's account of the army, 25
Sulphur springs, skirmishing with Confederates, 26-29
Morrisville, 31-32
Lawley on Chancellorsville, 32-33
Hooker, 33
Dinner, Dickens, John Forster, Louis Blanc, 34
Much inaccurate news published in England, 35
Aldie, 36-37
Army of the Potomac lack of confidence in Hooker and Lincoln, 37-38
Ships like the Alabama, 39-40
Roebuck and the Confederate cause, 40
More equivocal English opinion about American affairs, hostility to United States, 41-42
Parliament, Roebuck, Napoleon III, 42-44
Debate in Parliament of recognizing Confederacy, 43-44
1st Massachusetts Cavalry, skirmishing, Pleasonton, Kilpatrick, Hooker, 44-45
Army of the Potomac, critical of Pennsylvania in aftermath of Gettysburg, 45
English views of Confederate successes, Mason, Lord Derby, Lord Granville, Roebuck, 45-46
English society, 47
Roebuck Evarts, Gladstone, Cobden, 48
Need for victories, English opinion, 49-50

News of Gettysburg and Vicksburg, 50
 Confederates a very dangerous enemy, 51
 Victories and northern strength, reduced gold prices, 52
 Army supports conscription, 53
 Learning outfight Confederates, 53
 No fear of foreign armies, 53-54
 Confederate economic weakness exaggerated, fine fighting men, 55-56
 Lucky to win at Gettysburg, 56
 Lee and Army of Northern Virginia, 56-58
 Henry Adams, good news from the war, 56
 Hostile English society, 59, 61
 Talk of intervention at an end, 60
 London Index, 62-63
 Fall of Vicksburg, Seward, 63
 Session of Parliament ending, 64
 Deplores account of slaughter and destruction in American newspapers, Times of London, 65-66
 Letters, 67-68
 Picket duty, 68-69
 European cavalry, 69-71
 Army impatient to move ahead, 71
 Meade, McClellan, 71-72
 Southern civilians dread infantry and Germans, 73
 Cavalry pillaging, 73
 Suffering of Virginia, 73
 Kilpatrick ruffians, 73
 Soldiers killed a woman's sheep, 74
 Praises McClellan for providing guards for houses, 75
 Stragglers should be punished with death, 75
 Need for war to end with emancipation, Lincoln, 76
 Virginia climate, camps, disease, 78-79
 Ironclads, Liverpool, 79-81
 Attacks on Charleston, diplomatic stakes, 82-83
 Promotions for Charles Francis Adams, Jr., 84
 Ironclads, Mason, 84
 Departure of Mason from England, diplomacy, revolution, 86-88
 Charles Sumner speech, John Russell, only mobility sympathize with Confederates, 88-89
 Rosecrans, Chickamauga, tides of war, 89-90
 Court martial duty, 91
 Hartwood Church, 91-92
 Not worried about English position now, Chickamauga, 92
 Wants to see Meade's army in North Carolina, 93
 Henry Adams, war will burn itself out, a fatalist, life and the race go on, 96-97
 Expecting offensive operations in Virginia in November 1863, 101
 Cavalry worn out, 101
 Chattanooga, Jefferson Davis, 102
 Little for Confederates to hope for, 102

Napoleon III, 102-3
 Divisions in Europe, 103, 107-8
 Explains cavalry organization, 104
 Picket duty, Warrenton, 104-5
 Meade and Burnside, 105
 War has improved matters, steer clear of English troubles, 106
 Lawley letter, Chickamauga, 106-7
 All is calm with the English government, 107
 Chattanooga and impact on the English, Confederate loan, 109
 Winter quarters, 110
 Warrenton, brigade doing unnecessary work, 110-11
 Army and Navy Journal, 111
 Meade, not a Grant or Rosecrans but far better than Hooker or McClellan, 111
 London dinner, 115-17
 Reenlistment, 118
 Ministry, 119
 Queen, 120-23
 United States no little of talked of in England, European problems, 123-24
 Henry Adams, our armies seen as depleted, opinion is against us, 126
 Overland campaign, 127ff
 Knows little about what the army is doing, Grant, Meade, 128
 Conflicts in Europe, Palmerston, 128-29
 European politics quieter, 129-30
 Grant, Meade, Lee, campaign, 130-33
 Assessing Grant, his appearance, 133-34
 Wilderness, 134-35
 Comparative ease, waning support for slaveholders, troubles in Europe, 136-37
 Cold Harbor, earthworks, 137-39
 Stragglers at Spotsylvania, 139
 Headquarters, Grant and Meade ride together, 140-41
 Grant needs to take Richmond by force Lee to fight like he did Pemberton, 141-42
 Faith that Grant will ultimately take Richmond, 142-43
 England and the European powers, England has not pleased either North or South, 143-44
 Price paid for not getting rid of slavery, 145-47
 Liberalism and conservatism, 147
 Petersburg, 148ff
 Mystified by Grant, 148
 Grant and Meade, crossing the James, 149-54
 Assessment of Grant, 156-57
 Kearsarge and Alabama, 157-58
 English absorbed in European problems, 158-59
 Danish war, Disraeli, Palmerston, 159-61
 English crisis has passed, Henry Adams, 161-62
 Ministry and the Danish question, Parliament, 162-64
 Bad news from American War, defeats, gold prices, Europe obsessed with its own problems, 164-65

Quiet in Petersburg, 166
 Greatly admires Francis Channing Barlow, 167-68
 Operations in Virginia, 169
 Removal of Joseph Johnston, 169
 Niagara Falls peace conference, Greeley, 170, 183
 Petersburg casualties, Petersburg mine, sympathy for Grant, 170-75
 Sharpshooters, Petersburg lines, 176
 9th Corps, Burnside, 176-77
 Failure of McClellan meeting in New York, 179
 Union strategy, 180-81
 Seward, 182-83
 Grant, mission to Washington, horses for 5th Massachusetts cavalry, Halleck, Stanton, General Hardie, 185-88
 Mobile, Fort Morgan, Sherman, election campaign, 189-90
 Poor behavior of soldiers in assault on Petersburg, history of direct assaults, 190-91
 Farragut, Semmes, 192
 Command at Point Lookout, 193
 Impressed with black soldiers in his command, 194-95
 John Murray Forbes, John M. Andrew, 196
 Seward speech Auburn, 197
 1864 Valley campaign, Sheridan's great victory, 198
 Sherman and Hood, 198
 Sherman and Atlanta, 199
 Maryland tavern, bedbugs, 203
 October elections, 203-4
 Doubts McClellan has any popularity in the army, soldier vote, 204
 Photographs, 205
 Death of Roger Taney, 205
 Wilmington, 206-7
 Henry Adams, Grant and methodical slowness, Jefferson Davis speech at Macon, 207-8
 Country life in England, 208-9
 October elections, 209-10
 Possibility of McClellan's election, 210
 Fears further stalemate and a less than decisive result for Lincoln, 210-11
 Underestimated Confederate determination, northern divisions, effects of the war, 211-12
 Point Lookout, 212-15
 Black soldiers, 215-19
 Worries about election, 219-220
 Henry Adams does not understand Grant's moves, 220-21
 Election, voting in Boston, Everett, Robert C. Winthrop, Sumner, 221-23
 Financial condition of the country, taxes, bonds, 224-27
 Election and faith in democracy, 225-26
 Election result, McClellan, 227-28
 Reaction to election in England, 229-30
 Sherman's march, excitement in England, 230
 Slavery and conciliation, 231

Treasury, report, inflation, Fessenden, repudiation, gold, tax on luxuries, 231-32
Henry Adams, English opinion declares Sherman's march a failure, 232-33
Wilmington, Fort Fisher, Butler, 233
Grant and Lee, 233-37
Possible replacement for Dayton in France, Sumner, Motley, General Dix, 237-38
Sherman's March, Grant, Farragut, 238-39
Reading, books, 243
Sherman, a name that carries weight in England, 244
Prisoner treatment at Point Lookout, 244-46
Fort Fisher, Liverpool, 247
Sherman's march, Thomas victories, Butler, 248
National finances, 249-50
Prisoner of war treatment, retaliation, 250-51
Reconstruction, vengeance calls among Sumner, Dana, and Hoar, 252-53
Peace terms, 253
Fort Fisher, Sherman's March, 253-54
Treaty obligations, Seward, Canada, 254-55
Hampton Roads Conference, 256-57
Praises Lincoln's second inaugural, 257-58
Much less anxiety in London, Canada, 258-59
No English aid for Confederates, 259
Petersburg breakthrough, 259-64
Fall of Richmond, 264-65
Jefferson and slavery, 265
Lincoln assassination, 265-67
Ord ordered his arrest for neglect of duty, 267-69