

Storrs, John W. The “Twentieth Connecticut,” A Regimental History. Ansonia, Conn.: Press of the “Naugatuck Valley Standard,” 1886.

Introductory Poem, - - - - 9

CHAPTER I. The Twentieth Connecticut — Its Organization, Etc., - - - - 17

Lincoln, McClellan and Harrison’s Landing letter, 17-18

Organization of the regiment, 19-21

Camp at Oyster Point, guard mounting, 21

Soldiers pay and bounties, 22-23

Baltimore, 25

Army of the Potomac and McClellan, 26-27

Brigade organization, school of instruction, romantic dreams of conquest, 29-31

CHAPTER II. To the Front, - - - - 32

Key’s Gap, 33

Shelter from storms, 34

12th Corps, Fairfax Station camp, 36

Mud, storm, march, 38-41

Tents, 40-41

Accident, soldier killed by a falling tree, 42

Troop review, Hooker, Lincoln, 43

CHAPTER III. The Chancellorsville Campaign, - - 44

Chancellorsville campaign, 44ff

Bridge, Slocum, 46

Battle of Chancellorsville, 48ff

Engaged on May 3, 50-52

May 3, Surgeon Jewett, 53

Casualties, prisoners, 54-55

Soldier suffering, 56

Defeated, 57

Sergeant James McWhinnie, Co. H, suffering after Chancellorsville, wounded men, 58-64

CHAPTER IV. The Gettysburg Campaign, - - - 66

Changes in the regiment after Chancellorsville, 68

Gettysburg campaign, 69ff

Marching, Twelfth Corps, 69ff

Battle of Gettysburg, 79ff

Colonel Buckingham, battle account, 80-100

The wounded, the dead, 101-3

Village cemetery, 103-4

Citizen complaints, houses used for hospitals, 104-5

Narrow escapes, 105-6

20th Connecticut at Gettysburg, 106-7

CHAPTER V. The Army of the Cumberland, - - 111
Journey to the Army of the Cumberland, 112-13
Brown's Ferry, Lookout Valley, 113-14
Twelfth Corps guarding the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad, 117-18
Guerrillas, Tennessee Unionist cavalry, 118-21
Changes among officers, 121-22

CHAPTER VI. From Chattanooga to Atlanta, - - - 123
Lookout Valley, Atlanta campaign, 123-24
Snake Creek Gap, 125-26
Dalton, assault on a battery, 126-29
Cassville, 130-31
Buckingham, track of the army through Georgia, 132
Kennesaw Mountain, 133
Peachtree Creek, 135-38
Battle of Atlanta, 138-39
Building new line entrenchments, battery, 139-40
Fall of Atlanta, 145

CHAPTER VII. From Atlanta to the Sea, - - - 147
Captain H. H. Tarr Co. F Diary. 148ff
Burning of Atlanta, 149
Foraging, 149
Burning houses, fences and barns, 150
Foraging, slaves, 151
Burning cotton, 151
Bummers searching for hidden treasure, 152
Foraging, 152-53
Plantation, blacks on horseback, 153
Woman and hidden goods, 153-54
Savannah, 155-57

CHAPTER VIII. The Goldsboro' Campaign, - - - 158
Marching in South Carolina, 160ff
Skirmishing, 161-62
Bentonville, 164-66
Railroad destruction and foraging, 166-67

CHAPTER IX. Homeward Bound, - - - - 169
Goldsboro, 169
Marching toward Washington, Grand Review, 169-71
Statistics on the regiment, 171-72
Praise for the regiment, 172-74

CHAPTER X. Twenty Years Later — The Gettysburg Excursion, 175
Circular letter to regiment, 1884, reunion, Gettysburg, monument, 175-213

BIOGRAPHIES.

Colonel Samuel Ross, Lieutenant Col. Wm. B. Wooster, Brevet Col. P. B. Buckingham, Surgeons Terry and Jewett, Chaplain Frisbie, Etc., - - - 216-54

PERSONAL INCIDENT AND ANECDOTE. Playing Possum — Righting a Wrong, Etc, - 255

Capture at Chancellorsville, 255-57

Hospital life, 258

Volunteers vs. substitutes, 258

Artillery fire at Kennesaw Mountain, 259-61

Brave black servant, 261

Dead mules, 262

Turner's Ferry, Atlanta campaign, foraging in Atlanta, 262-63

Colonel Buckingham, close call at Bentonville, 264-65

Unjust dismissal of a lieutenant, Chancellorsville, 265-67

Furlough from Atlanta, 268-71

Debate amputation, 272

Rousseau raid during siege of Atlanta, 272-73

Soldiers and southern blacks, women, 273-74

Sherman and foraging, 274-75

Shell and Hooker, 275

Buckingham and reporters, 276-78

20th Connecticut in the Shenandoah, guerillas, 278-82

Cassville, 282

Marching in North Carolina, 282

Guerrillas, 283-84

20th Connecticut Roster, i-xviii