

Depew, Chauncy M. My Memories of Eighty Years. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons, 1922.

Elected to New York assembly in 1861, 20

Henry J. Raymond, 20-22

Dean Richmond, leader of Democrats, 22-23

Horatio Seymour vs. James Wadsworth, 23

Elected speaker of the assembly, 24-25

But surrender speakership to get Edwin Morgan elected senator, 25

Horatio Seymour and Lincoln, 27-28

Seymour outraged at arrest of Vallandigham, 28

New York draft riots, 29

Republicans do well in 1863 New York elections, 30-33

Andrew Curtin, 32

Division in Republican party in 1864, Reuben Fenton, 33-35

Democratic convention, New York, Seymour, Dean Richmond, Commodore Vanderbilt, 1864, 35-40

Solder vote in New York, 53-55

Seward vs. Chase, 56

Lincoln on telling stories, 57

Lincoln style of speaking, 57-58

Seward strongly opposed nomination Daniel S. Dickinson for the vice presidency in 1864.

Andrew Johnson won support of New York delegation by one vote, 60-61

Greeley and peace sentiment, 61-63

Lincoln assassination, funeral train, 65-66