

Wallace, Elizabeth Curtis. The War Comes to Glencoe: The Diary of Elizabeth Curtis Wallace, Glencoe, 1861. Edited by Eleanor P. Cross and Charles B. Cross, Jr. Chesapeake, Va.: Norfolk County Historical Society, 1985.

Child slave hired out, 13
Buchanan, day of fast, humiliation, and prayer, 14
Crisis in South Carolina, Charleston harbor, 18
Secession, Crittenden Compromise, Republicans, force bill, 20
Secession, 21-22
Virginia secession convention, 22
Virginia secession, 24-25
Slavery question, Lincoln, 27-28
Secession election, 29-30
Lincoln ignorant, 37-38
Lincoln inauguration, 42, 44
Lincoln and war preparations, 45
Lincoln, Sumter, Confederate commissioners, 46
Sumter and Pickens, 52
War inevitable, 55
Religious service, poor singing, poor sermon, 57
Washington in danger, Lincoln, 63
Military preparations, Lincoln, 68
Hospital work, help for impoverished women and children in Portsmouth, 69
Davis, letter of marque and reprisal, 73
Religion, atheist, 82
Arlington and Lincoln, 83
Lincoln and despotism, 99
Flag presentation, she spoke, 100
Van Evrie book on race and slavery, 103
Confederate in western Virginia, 104-5
Manassas, 106
Fighting in Missouri, Davis and peace proposal, 112
Anti-Davis faction in Congress, 112
Soldier aid society, 131
Beauregard, Johnston, Washington, 132
Ball's Bluff, 143-44
Seward, England, France, 145
Election, Davis, 148
Savannah forts, 149-50
Soldier aid society, 151
Davis, fast, humiliation, and prayer, 152
Blockade, stone fleet, 159