

Domschcke, Bernhard. Twenty Months in Captivity: Memoirs of a Union Officer in Confederate Prisons. Edited and translated by Frederic Trautman. Rutherford, N.J.: Fairleigh Dickinson University Press, 1987.

26th Wisconsin Infantry
Gettysburg prisoner, 26-30
Pickett, 29-30
Pennsylvania women, 32
Travel to Richmond, 32ff
Jewish businessman, 35
Libby Prison, 37ff
Prisoners robbed, 37
Libby described, 38-39
Staff and guards, 39-40
Prisoners buying, 40-41
Newspapers, 41
Diverse officers, 43
Germans, 43-44
Chaplain, 44
Debating club, 44
Reading, 45
Stonewall Jackson, 45-46
Newspaper, 46
Jokes and hijinks, 47
Thwarted execution, 48
Prisoner exchange, 48ff
Officers who toadied to Confederates, 50-51
Food, 51
Theft, 53
Belle Isle, 53
Fresh fish, 55ff
Minstrel show, 57-58
Kitchen, cooking, 58-59
Sanitary Commission, 59
Newspapers and food, 60
Deprivation in Richmond, 60
Escape tunnels, 61-68
Butler, 58
Confederate taxes, inflation, 69
Conscription, 69
Newspapers, 69-70
Libby visitors, 70-71
Exchange, 71-72
Danville, 75
Food, cooking, 76
Railroad journey, 78-79

Macon, 79-90
Food, cooking, 82-83
Chaplain, services, 85
Mistreatment, 86ff
Savannah, 91-97
Clothes, 93
Water, 93-94
Confederate officers, prison, 94-95
Tunnel, 95
Charleston, 99-105
Lice, 100
Food, 99
Andersonville, 100
Blacks soldiers, 101
Hospital, 102-3
Rations, food, 103
Columbia, SC, 106
Food, 106
Ignorant guards, poor whites, 109-111
Escape, 112ff
Sanitary Commission, 108
Camp Sorghum, 108ff
Dogs, 111
Mean guards, 110
Election of 1864, 111
Escape, 111-12
Exchange, 113
Camp Asylum, 113-17
Exchange, 117-24
Libby prison escape, 125-34
Belle Isle, 134-37
German officers, prisoners, 138-42