

Fauconnet, Charles Prosper. Ruined by This Miserable War: The Dispatches of Charles Prosper Fauconnet, a French Diplomat in New Orleans, 1863-1868. Edited by Carl A. Brasseau and Katherine Cermines Mooney. Knoxville: University of Tennessee Press, 2012.

Emancipation Proclamation, 1
Banks, labor system, 1-4
Labor problems, 4ff
Banks, 6
Confederate slaves, 7
Durant, 8, 51
New Orleans, 9ff
Banks, African American troops, 10ff
Port Hudson, food privs, 16-17
Rumors, 19
Expulsion of registered enemies, 21-23
Oath, 21
Confiscation, 22
Oath, women, 24
Guerrillas, 25ff
Banks, France, Mexico, 31
Confederate conscription, 35, 40-42, 44
Foraging, destruction, 37
Oath, 38-39
Mississippi Unionists, 42
Cotton confiscation, 44
Shepley speech, 44-45
Reconstruction, Louisiana. 45ff
Unionist factions, 46ff
Arson ships, 47-48
Schools, Confederate drawings, 50
Emancipation, 50
Constitutional convention, 52ff
Black insurrection, 52-53
Durant, abolitionist faction, 54
Banks, labor order, 55-56
Black education, 57
Black labor, 57-61
African American troops, 61-62
Creoles, 61ff
Funeral, Beaugard's wife, 62-63
New Orleans, commerce, 63ff
Cotton trade, 65-68
Banks, 68-69
Commerce, 71ff
Cotton, 73ff
Guerillas, 75-76

Henry Watkins Allen, 76-78
Mexico, 78-82
Red River campaign, 82-83
Resident aliens, 84ff
*Destruction, 86
Canby, 90
Education, 91, 95-96
Militia, 93
Reconstruction, 97ff
Elections, 101ff
Hahn, 102ff
Constitutional convention, 105ff
Abolition, free labor, 115ff
Economics, Gulf Coast, 125ff
Sugar, 127ff
Mexican War, 137ff