

Horrocks, James. My Dear Parents: The Civil War Seen by an English Union Soldier.
Edited by A. S. Lewis. New York: Harcourt Brace Jovanovich. 1982.

Artillery, enlistment pay, 23-24
Deserters, 26
Railroad, accident, death, 26
Irish, immigrants, 28-29
Irish and blacks, 30
Money, 31-32
Whiskey, 32-33
Artillery, 34-35
Destruction, 37, 39, 41
Soldier, religious, 45
Prospects for Confederates, 46
Slave preacher, 48
Young woman, Christmas, 52-53
New York, food, 58
Promotion, officers, 61
Murder, funeral, 62-63
AWOL when battery moves, 65-66
Confederate strength, 68
Fight, boxing, 70
Alcohol, punishment, 71
Overland campaign, 72ff
Soldiers ransacking slave shanty, 75-76
Stragling discarded items, 77
Lincoln, 88
Commission, then resignation, 91-92
McClellan and peace, 95, 106
Soldier pay, food, 96
Petersburg, 100ff
File closers, 102
What soldiers see of battle, 103
Soldier quarters, 103-4
Confederacy is gone, 105
Destruction, 106
Length of war, 107
Desertion, 108-9
Tougher in army, 115
Black music, 120
Peace, Blair mission, 120-21
Confederate deserters, 124
Commission, black troops, 126
Andrew Johnson, 130
Lee surrender, 130
Richmond, miscegenation, 132