

Reinhart, Joseph R., ed. and trans. Two Germans in the Civil War: The Diary of John Daeuble and the Letters of Gottfried Rentschler, 6th Kentucky Volunteers. Knoxville: University of Tennessee Press, 2004.

Chattanooga campaign, 1ff
Deserter execution, 10
Food, 24, 25, 36-37, 66-67
Alcohol, drunkenness, 24
Knoxville campaign, 27ff
Foraging, 28-30
Shoes, 30
Chaplain, 35
Food shortages, Chattanooga, 40
Reenlistment, critics at home, 41
Guerrillas, Unionists, 48-49
*Cruelty, 48
Tobacco, women, immorality, 48
Hardtack, 46
Black woman and white officers, 57
East Tennessee, 58-61
Dead horses, mules, odor, 64
Officers resigning, 66
Sanitary Commission, corruption, 67, 83
Mistreatment of German soldiers, 67-68
Black troops, 68
Amputation, and women, 68-69
Army of the Ohio, 65, 71-72
*Demoralization, corruption, 73-74
Extortioners, gamblers, 73
William G. Brownlow, 81-82
Unionists, 82
Food, 83-84
Sutlers, 83-85
Prices, 84-85
Duty, routine, 91
Disease, 91
Poor families, 92
Peace men, 92-93
Generals, 96
Atlanta campaign, 95ff
Fraternizing, blackguarding, 104, 135
Joseph Hooker, 114
Pickett's Mill, 117ff
Confederate food, 118-19
Premonition of death, 122
Animals and forage, 131

Hard war, 132
Religion, Bible, 132
Reduced strength in brigade, 133
Confederate soldiers as ignorant as blacks, 138
Execution of deserters, 141
O. O. Howard, 150
Joseph Hooker, 150-51
Food and prices, 152-53
Picket duty, 156